Observance of United Nations Week Planned

Wendell Black, president of Harbor College, will be master of ceremonies for the International Festival of Song and Dance to be sponsored by the Harbor Area Chapter, American Assn. for the United Nations, announced Community contact chairman, Mrs. Robert Lande when the steering committee met at the home of AAUN President Josephine Perry, 962 Paseo Del Mar.

The Festival, the highlight of United Nations Week, Oct. 18 to 24, will take place at 8 p.m., Oct. 24, at San Pedro high school.

Ira Kaye will open the program with a welcome from the Chamber of Commerce. Assemblyman Vincent Thomas will read The President's Proclamation for UN Week and Councilman John S. Gibson will read the Governor's.

Marilyn Nisko, who recently played the leading role when the Los Angeles Opera company presented Massenet's "Manon," will sing. Other musical numbers will be presented by the San Pedro high school choir under the direction of Elizabeth Schuck and the band under the direction of Manly Wood, and a group of singing Negro Spirituals in charge of Mrs. Robert Cofield.

Among the national dance groups who will perform is one from the heart of Mexico. Others represent Slavonian, Japanese, Scandinavian, and other nationalities. A few details of the program are still to be completed, Mrs. Lande reported.

Present at the meeting were Mrs. S. V. Hoffman, Mrs. Shuck, Mrs. Lande, Mary Jane O'Rourke, President Perry and Van Guelder Waring.

Health Official Speaks to Civic Group of Lomita

A graphic portrayal of the many health safeguards through which the County Health Department contributes to the security of the individual, was given by H. L. Messier, assistant director of the sanitation division, to the regular quarterly meeting of the Lomita Civic League at Lomita Elementary School.

Messier explained the enormous growth of the health department due to increased population, and to contracts with most of the cities in the county for health supervision.

D. W. Colfelt, chief sanitarian at the county health center in Torrance, came to the meeting to acquaint himself with Lomita people and their problems. He stated that inspectors are available for consultation between 8 a.m. and 9, before they go out on inspections.

The regular meeting of the League followed the health talks. Mrs. Edward L. Gibson, R. R. Somers, and Mrs. George Thompson, the president, were named as the nominating committee. Marshall Pine, immediate past president, accepted the hospitality chairmanship, to succeed M. S. Goodwin, who is moving to northern California.

Union Leaders Map Plans for More Activities

Increased political action and education, community services, and leadership were the topics discussed in Wilmington last week as representatives of the Harbor Area unions and the Los Angeles County Federation of Labor, AFL-CIO, met at the Don Hotel.

Attended by W. J. Bassett, secretary-treasurer; George Roberts, president, and James Simmon, Harbor Area representative of the County Federation, the session was called the first of a monthly series to coordinate AFL-CIO programs.

The group also resolved to be more active in "organizing the unorganized, boycott non-union businesses, fight to make a higher standard of living for all, and keep the balance between labor and business to keep America free," Bassett said after the sessions.

Coordination of the AFL-CIO program for consumer education with the new California State Consumer Council also was discussed.
